FEATURED SPEAKER:

Anne Case is the Alexander Stewart 1886 Professor of Economics and Public Affairs Emeritus at Princeton University, where she is the Director of the Research Program in Development Studies. Dr. Case has been awarded the Kenneth J. Arrow Prize in Health Economics from the International Health Economics Association, for her work on the links between economic status and health status in childhood, and the Cozzarelli Prize from the Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences for her research on midlife morbidity and mortality.

UC BERKELEY RESPONDENTS

Mahasin Mujahid is the Chancellor's Professor of Public Health and Associate Professor of Epidemiology. Her research examines how neighborhood environments impact cardiovascular health and health inequities among communities of color and other vulnerable populations.

Ronald Lee is the Edward G. and Nancy S. Jordan Family Professor Emeritus of Economics and Professor Emeritus of Demography and founding Director of the Center for the Economics and Demography of Aging at Berkeley, now Associate Director.
