

DEPARTMENT OF DEMOGRAPHY

Brown Bag

Linguistic Assimilation in the Age of Mass Migration: Evidence from Ellis Island Oral Histories

Leah Platt Boustan

Department of Economics, Princeton University

September 9, 2020

12:00 to 1:15 pm

Leah Boustan is a professor of economics at Princeton University, where she is also a faculty associate of the Industrial Relations Section and co-director of the Development of the American Economy Program at the National Bureau of Economic Research. Her research lies at the intersection between economic history and labor economics. Her recent work has been on the mass migration from Europe to the United States in the late 19th and early 20th centuries.

Manuscript co-authors: Ran Abramitzky (Stanford), Peter Catron (UW), Dylan Connor (ASU) and Rob Voigt (Northwestern)

Zoom Meeting ID: 928 0042 4142

Password: DEMOG916

NOTE: All participants and hosts are now required to sign into a Zoom account prior to joining meetings hosted by UC Berkeley