School of Public Health

Brown University: School of Public Health: Behavioral and Social Sciences
ASSOCIATE/FULL PROFESSOR - TENURED (FPA #190)
Location: Providence, RI

The Brown University School of Public Health is searching for an Associate or Full Professor (with tenure) in the Department of Behavioral and Social Sciences. The position will be available July 1, 2017. Brown's School of Public Health is a newly CEPH-accredited public health school in one of the nation's leading universities. The Department has an exceptionally strong portfolio of behavioral health and intervention research and includes 7 tenured or tenure-track faculty and 30 research faculty. The Department is committed to developing and mentoring early career investigators and trains both Master's and doctoral students in behavioral and social health sciences. The Department is highly invested in maintaining an inclusive community of faculty and students and embraces diversity along its many dimensions—including race, ethnicity, sex, religion, socio-economic background, sexual orientation, gender identity, physical ability, and other aspects of identity. More information on the Department is available at <https://www.brown.edu/academics/public-health/behavioral-and-social-sciences/>

Applications are encouraged from well-established scholars with expertise in health communications, mobile health (mHealth) interventions, or implementation/dissemination of behavioral interventions. Priority will be given to candidates whose work complements our strengths in one of the following health behavior topics: obesity, physical activity, addictive behaviors, or HIV. We are particularly interested in candidates whose work addresses understanding and eliminating health disparities. A doctoral degree in a behavioral and/or social science (or another degree with experience in behavioral research) is required. Candidates should have a strong track record of obtaining external funding for their research programs.

Applicants should submit their Curriculum Vitae and a cover letter addressing the reasons for their interest in the position through Interfolio at the following link: <https://apply.interfolio.com/35921>

Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2016. Full consideration will be given to all applications received by November 15, 2016. Applications received after the priority deadline may be reviewed until the position is filled or the search is closed.

Brown University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and actively solicits applications from women and minorities.

Potential applicants are invited to contact to the Search Committee and Department Chair, Christopher W. Kahler, Ph.D. (Christopher_Kahler@brown.edu, 401-863-6651), for more details on the position.
